

RFID Event Management Services.

Module 2 of 10

Induction Management. This service relates to site crews, guests, management, everyone that arrives on site for build and break. The induction usually consists of a video or talk to make everyone aware of risks, procedures and responsibilities for all eventualities. Should an accident occur it is vital that management can ascertain that any individuals concerned attended induction.

Our system ensures everyone is monitored as they enter induction and when they leave so that there is an accurate audit for analysis. The ID Card used has dual HF and UHF tags embedded so that everyone attending is autonomously scanned.

After induction access to the site is permitted. To safeguard anyone being excluded from the induction access is not permitted at the entrances when individuals are scanned - the system will not permit access if induction has not been attended. This service relieves management and staff from checking each person, saving time and resources.

Our Products and Services are competitively priced backed by a friendly, competent and experienced team ready to guide and support our Client's requirements.
